

Protecting Your Child from Online Exploitation & Trafficking

- Monitor social media; no stranger requests.
- What goes online stays online permanently.
- Teach boys to respect girls; never glamorize exploitation.
- Keep communication open; runaways are most at risk.
- Discuss rights when dealing with police.
- Monitor gaming; disable chat features.
- Trafficking isn't always kidnapping; manipulation begins online.
- Remind them gifts for photos or talk is exploitation.
- Teach boundaries, healthy relationships, and red flags.

"Teen sex trafficking is real. Talk to your kids about potential exploitation."

602-777-3333

We offer Free and Confidential Information by phone. We carefully protect our client identities and maintain the highest possible standard of confidentiality. If you have questions, call us 24/7. We want to help you and we believe you. Call National at 602-777-3333 or visit CallNational.com